Spring is a great time to "restore and renew..." a time to plant and rejuvenate! Sprucing up your surroundings can be a wonderful way to enhance your immediate life experience, and can make a significant contribution to your overall wellness! Improving your outdoor living spaces will make you feel good, and does not have to cost you a fortune. Parker Homescape can work with you today to provide you with increased pleasure in and enjoyment of your home and your property.

Scott Parker, the owner of Parker Homescape, is wonderfully warm, energetic, and enthusiastic. He grew up in Watchung, part of an award-winning family landscape business. Throughout his youth, Scott gained valuable hands-on experience in exterior landscape, and actually managed this portion of his family's business for some time upon completion of college. In 2001, he "branched out" on his own, and has happily watched Parker Homescape grow into the thriving enterprise that it is today. The business employs up to 85 people, including an in-house designer, two landscape architects, and a myriad of other talented personnel.

Scott's family has been in the landscape industry for over 60 years. The family business won the White House National Landscape Award twice, and traveled to the White House under two different presidential administrations to receive the highest recognition in environmental design. Scott grew to love the industry, and eventually went to school to learn all types of specific skills and techniques. His work has since been featured in many trade magazines. Parker Homescape takes great pride in the ability to build fabulous "outdoor living space" and thus increase homeowner use of, and pride in their property.

Landscape improvements are also key to maintaining and increasing your property value. In this uncertain housing market, the eye appeal of your home can make all the difference. Parker Homescape offers a unique customer service program that begins with capturing your "wish list" and continues through project completion. Work can be undertaken in stages if necessary. Parker Homescape offers a lifetime warranty on their paver stone work, and programs with no required payments and no interest for up to one full year. Scott lives in Warren with his wife Denise, and 7 month-old daughter Ashley. Parker Homescape begins yet another generation of family-owned landscaping business. Denise helps out with advertising, Scott's mom does some photography work for the company, and eventually even Ashley is likely to play a key role in furthering the business objectives.
